UC SANTA CRUZ

Dear UC Santa Cruz Alumni & Friends,

Join fellow alumni and friends as we explore the Galapagos Islands. Designated the first UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1978, the Galapagos Islands have been described as a “unique living museum and showcase of evolution.” They are home to a fascinating array of wildlife inhabiting an unspoiled ecosystem, living in harmony with their human visitors.

This exciting journey features a day of guided touring in Quito plus an intimate cruise through the archipelago with up-close access to endemic species. Expert naturalists guide you through the wonders of this national park, whale sanctuary, and marine reserve.

Accommodations for this adventure are aboard the Isabela II, a 40-guest vessel with spacious cabins, local cuisine, and a staff dedicated to ensuring both your comfort and maximum enjoyment of this truly extraordinary destination and its diverse inhabitants. And sailing by small ship allows for flexibility in the itinerary to maximize wildlife viewing, as well as access to exclusive ports.

Stateroom availability is limited. With significant savings of more than $1,000 per couple, we anticipate this tour will fill quickly, so be certain to reserve your spot today.

Reserve today online at ucsc.orbridge.com, by phone at (831) 459-3689 or by returning the enclosed reservation form.

Sincerely,

Nichole Silva
Director of UC Santa Cruz Inspired Expeditions

Featuring faculty leaders: Roxanne Beltran and Patrick Robinson

Roxanne Beltran is an Assistant Professor in the Ecology and Evolutionary Biology Department at UC Santa Cruz. She received her BS at UC Santa Cruz, her MS at the University of Alaska, Anchorage, and her PhD at the University of Alaska, Fairbanks. At UC Santa Cruz she leads the Beltran Lab, a group of postdocs, graduate students, technicians and 12 undergraduate student researchers from a wide range of backgrounds. Most of Roxanne's research projects focus on elephant seals, such as exploring how behavior and physiology interact to drive the ecological and evolutionary patterns we see in nature.

Patrick Robinson is the Director of Año Nuevo Reserve at UC Santa Cruz. He received his BS and PhD at UC Santa Cruz where he studied seals and sea lions from California to the Galapagos and Antarctica. He is interested in the at-sea behavior of pinnipeds and developing tools to understand how they make a living in their environment. This encompasses a variety of research areas ranging from movement ecology to diving physiology and foraging energetics. In his current role, he facilitates internationally recognized research programs and interprets findings to classes, docents, and the public.
